About Us

The European languages are members of the same family. Their separate existence is a myth. For science, music, sport, etc, Europe uses the same vocabulary. The languages only differ in their grammar, their pronunciation and their most common words. Everyone realizes why a new common language would be desirable: one could refuse to pay expensive translators. To achieve this, it would be necessary to have uniform grammar, pronunciation and more common words. If several languages coalesce, the grammar of the resulting language is more simple and regular than that of the individual languages. The new common language will be more simple and regular than the existing European languages. It will be as simple as Occidental; in fact, it will be Occidental. To an English person, it will seem like simplified English, as a skeptical Cambridge friend of mine told me what Occidental is.

Project Summary

Far far away, behind the word mountains, far from the countries Vokalia and Consonantia, there live the blind texts. Separated they live in Bookmarksgrove right at the coast of the Semantics, a large language ocean. A small river named Duden flows by their place and supplies it with the necessary regelialia. It is a paradisematic country, in which roasted parts of sentences fly into your mouth. Even the all-powerful Pointing has no control about the blind texts it is an almost unorthographic life One day however a small line of blind text by the name of Lorem Ipsum decided to leave for the far World of Grammar. The Big Ox-mox advised her not to do so, because there were thousands of bad Commas, wild Question Marks and devious Semikoli, but the Little Blind Text didn't listen. She packed her seven versalia, put her initial into the belt and made herself on the way. When she reached the first hills of the Italic Mountains, she had a last view back on the skyline of her hometown Bookmarksgrove, the headline of Alphabet Village and the subline of her own road, the Line Lane. Pityful a rethoric question ran over her cheek, then

PRIORITY

Your first reaction should be to grab your room keys, alert the people around you, and go.

Act immediately but try to stay calm.

Stay low in case of smoke or fumes. If you're in bed, roll off the bed and crawl to the door.

Don't waste time getting dressed or searching for valuables.

Do not attempt to extinguish a fire unless you are trained to do so.

Leave fire fighting to the professionals.

To waken anyone who may be asleep, shout, "Fire! Everyone out!"

FIRE ALARM!

A dark, dimly lit fire station interior. In the background, there are red fire cabinets with white 'H' symbols. In the foreground, several red fire extinguishers are visible, some with white labels that say 'FIRE EXTINGUISHER'. The overall atmosphere is somber and urgent.
